

<https://www.bmtfilm.com/publicity>

CU Jack Simpson talking to Camera at the Book Club. Books in the background.

Jack Simpson 0:07

What these times of crisis show is, as a society we have a lot of people living in fairly precarious ways

MS Jack Simpson 0:14

I think lots of the government response has been good and has been right and has been appropriate but part of where they've come from I guess is a situation where the state is kind of in a difficult position, especially when it comes to the globalised problems.

MLS Outside Book Club Night. People sitting in window
MS people serving dinner to visitors

Jack Simpson 0.32

So we just decided to do get dinner for people that are working in the hospitality in the city I was it's been a really stressful time. We just thought to what we could do really we thought maybe we can make a dinner and other people have made contributions.

MS Jack Simpson with beer and posters on wall.

Jack Simpson 0.44

North brew brought these, Sony Arara completed me is given some money towards it and a couple of other people have bought vouchers. So yeah, that's all really just trying to do a bit to make things better for the community.

CU Jack Simpson talking to Camera at the Book Club. Books in the background.

Jack Simpson 0.56

I think people of Leeds know people of Leeds' culture are very kind of..there's a lot solidarity and people in the north there's a lot solidarity (and I'm sure in the south as well). I think times like these will provide a vehicle really a problem for which we galvanise around and I'm sure people will.

1.16

FADE TO BLACK

Transcribed by <https://otter.ai>