Kingston Poplar is a British artist using his personal life and experiences as a lens to investigate the absurdities of the human condition. Over time, through his work you will see a full life play out in one continuing narrative, the joys, the struggle, transformations and moments of quiet wonder.

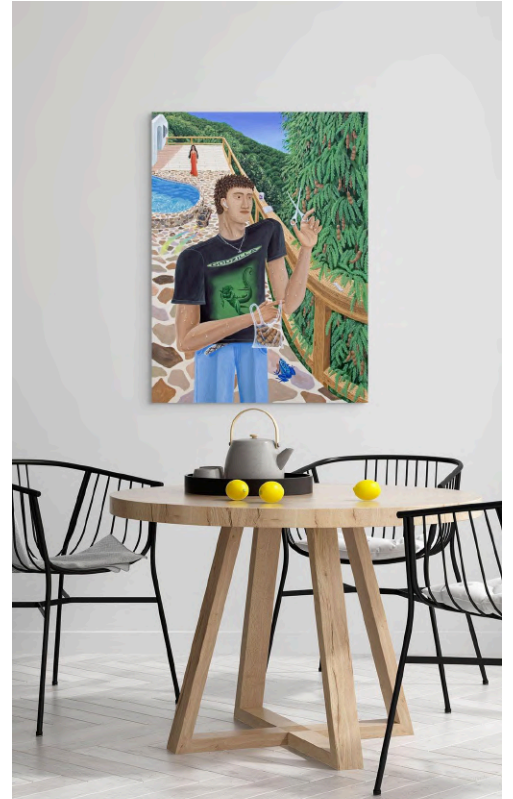

Below you will find a curated selection of works created between 2021 and 2025, along with details and install shots. All works are original paintings on canvas and paper.

Please note the prices presented in this document do not include postage, this will be calculated before purchase and will depend on your location. Each painting is delivered securely packaged in a cardboard tube or padded envelope with a certificate of authenticity.
