A robot or short 'bot' is an app or macro that automatically plays GoT Conquest for you personally when you are out doing real life things, sleeping or playing other games. A bot has to be set up once and can automatically perform automated tasks forever, such as for example farming monsters, attacking and farming players, upgrading buildings, doing research, collecting daily rewards, building and healing troops, upgrade gear and even saving your troops from incoming raids.

Bots can be set up through emulators using macro recorders and editors. They may also be set up on rooted or jailbroken devices, howbeit, not as well as on emulators. It is definitely better to setup your own scripts when it comes to using bots in Game of Thrones Conquest, rather than using software or downloads that somebody else has made, because they are generally and sadly much more often detected and banned.
