- A newborn portrait session within the first 7-14 days is the perfect way to remember these fleeting early days — those tiny toes, curly poses and delicate features that change all too quickly.
- Whilst your newborn is soothed and gently drifts off to sleep, I will patiently and carefully pose your baby to create the soft, artistic images you will treasure for a lifetime. Mum is also welcome to join for a few tender poses on the beanbag — a beautiful way to capture that first quiet bond.
- Every session is tailored to you — we'll discuss the poses you're drawn to and choose a palette of accessories and wraps that complement your home and style.
