

glimpse of heaven

I'll drop everything to know love.
I'll do anything, I'll be anyone.

my new moon,
my glimpse of heaven,
you complete all my burning desires with your blind devotion.

Please come share my cloud.

Ok so,
You know how everything fits in the past?

I framed our romance there, and here.

I'm in love with love again, you take the form of a figure filled with sparkling, spiraling atoms perfectly formulated for me

MMM the idea of loving you is so tempting, look me in the eye.

I saw myself unlike I ever had before.
And, it was always about me.

I've created a space where movies and love songs are true to their message
I saw what love could be, and how it tore us apart to make us question everything.

Ha-ha you have to listen to me now, I'm on a stage.

I framed our episodes to make our fears more approachable,
More digestible
Easier to ignore

Dream me told me not to settle.

My idea of you will never die.